

BJP will lose Gujarat & Country: Mamata Banerjee

Kolkata (UNI) West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee used her Bongaon rally to deliver one of her fiercest national-level attacks yet, predicting an unprecedented political setback for the BJP beginning, she said, in its “strongest citadel” of Gujarat.

Addressing a packed gathering, she warned that the ruling party’s aggression in Bengal would ultimately trigger its downfall in the 2029 Lok Sabha elections.

“They are trying to capture Bengal, but they will lose Gujarat and they will lose the country. 2029 will be very dangerous for the BJP. They will lose power. And it is Trinamool that will claim Delhi,” she said.

Positioning herself as a leader of national importance, Banerjee said, “If you attack me, I will shake the whole of India. After the elections, I will travel across the entire country.” She tore into the Centre’s allegations on infiltration, accusing the BJP of weaponising the issue for political gain despite border security being a union subject.

If the Centre claimed large-scale infiltration, she asked, “how is the state responsible unless the Centre itself is complicit?”

She argued that the same narrative had been deployed unsuccessfully in Bihar, and insisted that the BJP’s attempts to win Bengal would backfire most dramatically in Gujarat.

Turning to the ongoing Special Intensive Revision (SIR), Banerjee called it an unprecedentedly rushed and politically driven attempt to manipulate the voter list.

She pointed out that the last such exercise was conducted in 2002 and normally takes three years, whereas this one was being completed in a matter of weeks just before elections.

“The goal is to delete the names of genuine residents who have lived in Bengal for decades, voted in previous elections, and receive state benefits.”

“People elect the government, not the Election Commission. But now the Commission is deciding who gets to choose the government,” she added.

She also criticised what she described as chaos around identity documents. First, voters were compelled to obtain Aadhaar cards — “for which they took money,” she alleged — only to now be told that Aadhaar is not valid for voter verification.

Reassuring the crowd, she asserted that if the 2024 voter list was unreliable, then even the Prime Minister’s election would be invalid.

Banerjee said the BJP had attempted similar tactics in 2016, 2021 and 2024, and failed each time.

“Don’t be afraid. As long as I am here, no one can remove you,” she assured.

Tejas accident should not derail India's indigenous fighter programme: Ex- IAF Chief Arup Raha

New Delhi (UNI) Former Indian Air Force Chief Air Chief Marshal Arup Raha has cautioned against any rethink on India’s indigenous fighter aircraft programme following the recent Tejas Light Combat Aircraft (LCA) mishap at the Dubai Airshow, stressing that the country must stay firmly committed to building its own combat jets.

In an exclusive interview to UNI, Raha said the accident , which occurred during a stunt manoeuvre, should not undermine decades of work or India’s strategic goal of self-reliance in defence aviation.

“India should not, under any circumstances, give up its aim to produce an indigenously built fighter attack aircraft. This is an essential requirement,” he said.

Raha noted that the Tejas LCA has performed “reasonably well,” but acknowledged that manufacturing has been “rather slow.”

With the IAF’s fighter squadron strength declining steadily, the need for rapid induction has become urgent. “Right now our fighter strength is depleting, and in five to seven years’ time, we may be down to as low as 25 squadrons if we do not beef up our air force quickly,” he warned.

Highlighting the progress made, he said the Tejas Mark 1 is only the second fighter jet fully developed in India and incorporates several advanced systems.

Uranium traces in ‘Breast Milk’ raise alarm in Bihar: Experts

Patna (UNI) Taking serious note of the detection of Uranium in breast milk, scientists have called for an urgent and comprehensive genetic study of lactating mothers and their infants in Bihar. A recent investigation revealed the presence of Uranium-238, a radioactive and hazardous isotope, in breast milk samples collected from multiple districts. Calling the findings “serious and alarming,” Chairman of the School of Preventive Oncology, Dr. Dharendra Narayan Sinha, said a genetic study is essential to determine whether Uranium exposure has caused mutations or abnormalities in mothers and their children.

Speaking to UNI, Sinha stressed that Uranium in breast milk could affect the genes of both mother and infant, and only a detailed genetic analysis can identify any damage.

Citing study findings from Mahavir Cancer Sansthan and AIIMS Delhi, Sinha said that elevated Uranium levels can cause genetic changes, particularly in children. While Uranium-235 is a naturally occurring isotope, the detection of uranium-238 in breast milk, he cautioned, is a serious cause for concern.

However, Sinha noted that in most samples the concentration of Uranium was within the normal range of 0-5 g/L, except for one sample where the level was towards the higher side. Many samples showed concentrations around 2.3, 2.7 and 2.8 g/L — levels not considered elevated, though the presence of the dangerous isotope itself remains worrying.

ED attaches Rs 1 cr assets of Neeraj Bhatia in Codeine diversion case

Shimla (UNI) The Enforcement Directorate (ED) has attached immovable assets worth Rs 1 crore belonging to Neeraj Bhatia, Managing Partner of M/s Vidity Healthcare and president of the Sirmour Drug Manufacturing Association.

The action, initiated by the ED’s Jammu Sub-Zonal Office under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), follows allegations of illegal diversion of codeine-based cough syrups into narcotics supply chains.

According to the ED, Bhatia and co-accused Niket Kansal are under investigation for channeling large quantities of Corex and other codeine formulations to entities that operated outside the legal drug distribution chain.

These activities came to light after the Jammu Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB) registered a case against Vidity Healthcare and its associates for diverting codeine-based cough syrup (CBCS) between 2018 and 2024.

The ED has indicated that the illegally diverted stock amounted to over Rs 16 crore, with gross criminal proceeds estimated at Rs 2.92 crore.

Earlier this year, ED teams conducted searches at the premises of Bhatia and Kansal, recovering cash and jewellery valued at Rs 1.93 crore. The latest attachment includes industrial land owned by Vidity Healthcare in Panipat, Haryana. Officials said further investigation is underway.

This action comes less than 24 hours after authorities unearthed another case involving the arrest of the owner of a Haryana-based pharmaceutical company for supplying duplicate medicines to Ladakh using forged licenses of a Himachal Pradesh firm.

That case, linked to a Sirmour-based healthcare company, exposed the circulation of substandard antibiotics such as Amoxicillin and Cefixime.
